Chickasaw Nation.

EDITOR HERALD—This lovely Sabbath morning, according to promise, finds me with pen in hand for the purpose of contributing a few thoughts to your much appreciated and valuable paper, which I trust will be read with pleasure by yourself and others of my distant but valued friends in old Kentucky. After having been a resident of this part of the Nation for nearly two years I find it rapidly developing into a first class community. Society and morals on the increase; lawlessness and six shooters almost a thing of the past. There are persons of refinement and intelligence from all parts of the States seeking and obtaining homes within our midst. The law here is well enforced, though I feel confident it would be a difficult matter to make some of my old Kentucky friends believe it. The militia have been building air castles for a while, but the smoke of battle has long since cleared away in the Chickasaw Nation. God reigns and the government at Washington still lives, and the good citizens of this Nation are still holding the fort and the prospects are flattering that they will continue to do so. Corn, cotton, wheat, oats, vegetables and fruits grow to perfection here, though I regret to say there is great scarcity of the latter. Orchards are few, for the simple reason the land is not owned by persons occupying it. Cotton is the principle crop but is cut considerably short this year on account of the ravages of the boll worm. The grass is fine and the cattle are in fine condition. The acorn crop is large, which, with the addition of a small amount of corn, means plenty of fat hogs and plenty of sausage Christmas—the woods abound with swine—so you see at a glance we are not aiming to add any to Mr. Armour's millions this winter.

Now, Mr. Editor, if I haven't already trespassed upon your patience I would like to say something in regard to a series of meetings of one week's duration that has just closed at our nearest place of worship. Our minister was Brother E. R. Webb, of the Christian order, who was born and reared on the frontiers; whose early life was one of privation and hardship; lived the life of a cow-boy from nine years old until manhood, but fortunately during that time he obtained a little pocket volume from some of his cow-boy chums from which he learned the alphabet as they were not blessed with any kind of literature on the frontier. Brother Webb is now 32 years of age, has been in the ministry just three years and claims nothing but the saving souls for his hire. He is simply a self-made man. This is his first trip in our midst, which has resulted in much good—seventeen being the number that united with the church, eleven new converts, and six reclaimed. Surely, Brother Webb is a man of God. He has got the majority of them in this locality with their shoulders to the wheel moving the good work on. Though he has been so unfortunate as to have his lot cast among the red men of the forest, I doubt whether there could be one of greater talent found even in more favored lands.

Respectfully, CATHARINE HENRY.

"Seeing is Believing."

And a good lamp must be simple; when it is not simple it is not good. Simple, Beautiful, Good—these words mean much, but to see "The Rochester" will impress the truth more forcibly. All metal, tough and seamless, and made in three pieces only, it is absolutely safe and unbreakable. Like Aladdin's of old, it is indeed a "wonderful lamp," for its marvelous light is purer and brighter than gas light, softer than electric light and more cheerful than either.

Look for this stamp—THE ROCHESTER. If the lamp dealer hasn't the genuine Rochester, and the style you want, send to us for our new illustrated catalogue, and we will send you a lamp safely by express—your choice of over 2,000 varieties from the Largest Lamp Store in the World.
